

HEALTH SERVICES, BS

Bachelor of Science in Health Services (275010 BS)

The Applied Bachelor's in Health Services allows for both academic and technical training that meets the needs of health care employers. The degree is designed to provide an efficient, flexible, and technically relevant path to a bachelors degree. This will allow students to advance in their current career, and/or prepare for graduate/advanced professional-level training programs.

This program is a degree completion program for students who desire a program they can tailor to their personal and professional interests.

Requirements for Admission

Admission to the University of Akron and permission of program director.
